My friend Colours, a once in a lifetime dog, taught me what an English Springer Spaniel should be. His patience for human infallibility (mine for our start in agility and Henriette's for understanding what she really meant even when she didn't say the correct thing) was astounding.

When talking about animals, it is unusual to use terms such as sense of humor, patience and understanding, but Colours had those abilities. You knew what he was thinking, just by looking at the expression on his face. Were his eyes twinkling? If so, he was either going to launch himself at you OR, he had just stolen a wonderful food item.

I am fortunate to have so many wonderful memories of this very special dog. Those of us lucky enough to own his children, grandchildren or great grandchildren will help carry on his dynasty.

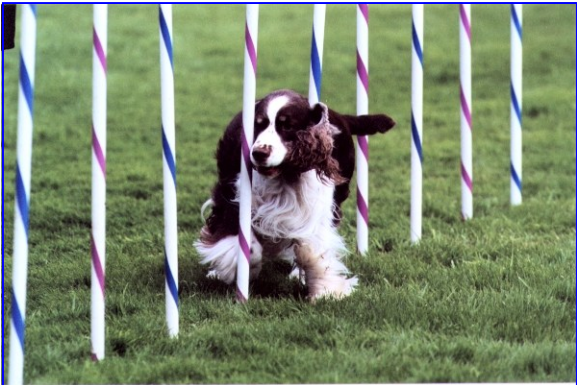

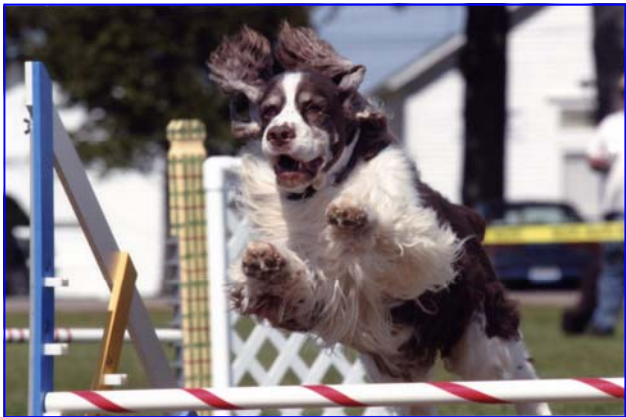

I invite you to come along for a celebration of Colours life.

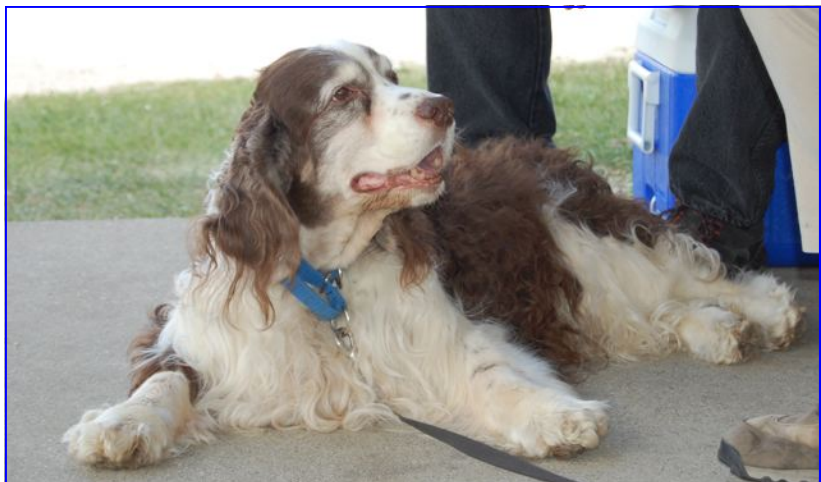

*Thank you, for all that you've taught me Colours. Rest well my friend.
Love, Tracey*
